Breakstone Ridge, Kinney Valley, and BBF Alpacas cordially invite you to Wisconsin for an opportunity to listen to the advice of one of, if not, the largest alpaca breeders in the United States. Jerry Forstner owns and manages a family-run farm of thousands of alpacas. He, as much as anyone, has a vested interest in the success of our industry. No one is better equipped to understand the alpaca industry and its future. Jerry will speak about three critical aspects of running a successful alpaca business in our current economy.
